In accordance with MPEP 1302.04 the following grammatical errors have been corrected:

In claim 1, line 3, after "in", --an-- has been inserted; in claim 1, line 3, after "and", --a-- has been inserted; in claim 1, line 11, after "in", --the-- has been inserted.

In claim 21, line 3, after "in", --an-- has been inserted; in claim 21, line 3, after "and", --a-- has been inserted; in claim 21, line 10, after "in", --the-- has been inserted.

Claim 1 and its dependent claims are allowed since claim 1 recites an X-direction moving mechanism movable in the X-direction between a position adjacent a standard of a sewing machine and a position far from said position adjacent said standard and a Y-direction drive attachment for holding an embroidering frame said attachment having a Y-direction moving mechanism provided therewith which is movable in the Y-direction normal to the X-direction, and being detachably connected to said X-direction moving mechanism.

Claim 12 and its dependent claims are allowed since claim 12 recites an X-direction moving mechanism movable in the X-direction between a position adjacent a standard of a sewing machine and a position far from said position adjacent said standard and a Y-direction drive attachment for holding an embroidering frame said attachment having a Y-direction moving mechanism provided therewith which is movable in the Y-direction normal to the X-direction, and being detachably connected to said X-direction moving mechanism.

Claim 21 and its dependent claims are allowed since claim 21 recites an output portion which may be moved in X and Y directions, an X-direction moving mechanism movable in the X-direction between a position adjacent a standard of a sewing machine and a position far from said position adjacent said standard, a Y-direction moving mechanism being movable in the Y-direction normal to said X-direction and a Y-direction drive attachment for holding an embroidering frame, said Y-direction drive attachment being provided with a second Y-direction moving mechanism which is movable in the Y-direction normal to said X-direction, and being detachably connected to said output portion.

The patent to Takenoya et al is cited to disclose an embroidery stitching machine comprising an embroidering frame (attached at 12, Fig. 4), an X-direction moving mechanism movable in the X-direction between two positions that vary in distance from a sewing machine standard and a Y-direction drive attachment 11 for holding the embroidering frame said attachment having a Y-direction moving mechanism provided therewith which is movable in the Y-direction normal to the X-direction. Stucki et al discloses another embroidery stitching machine comprising an embroidering frame 27a, Fig. 3, an X-direction moving mechanism movable in the X-direction between two positions that vary in distance from a sewing machine standard and a Y-direction drive attachment for holding the embroidering frame said attachment having a Y-direction
